It is used as an assessment tool for the correction of the postural distortion and visceral positioning that might be including the disease process and disorder function of the body. Many professionals like chiropractors, massage therapists, energy healers and ordinary laypersons use this technique. It's easy to learn, safe in its application for use with patients, clients, families, and loved ones of all ages. This revolutionary treatment is the most thorough light-touch system that relieves pain while correcting postural distortion.

After receiving certification, you will perform hands-on therapy sessions in a free clinic – be sure to invite your family, friends and current clients to experience your new modality!
